Tender User Guide

Tender is a website that was designed to allow user to upload various foods that they ate and compare or argue with their friends on who ate the tastiest meal that day. This user guide will teach a new user the numerous features that tender provides to allow users to compare food with each other.
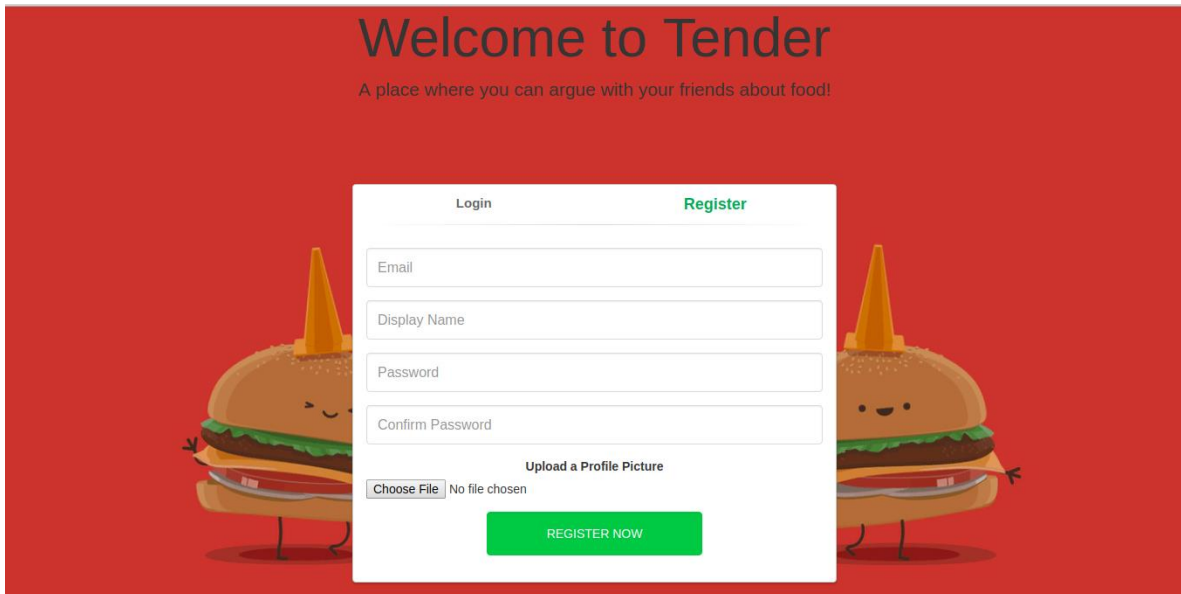

Login Page

This is the main login page where pervious users can login or new users can register and create a profile to use the site.

Register Page

Fill in the require information to create an account. Users can also upload a profile picture to personalize their account. Click on the register now button to confirm your information and create the account.
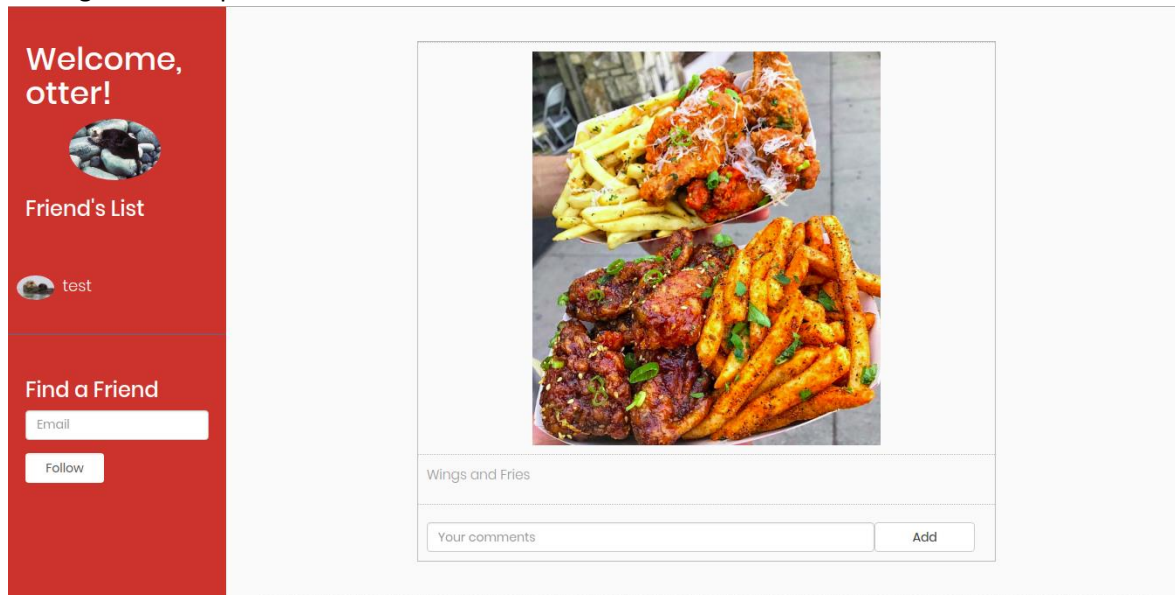

Home Page
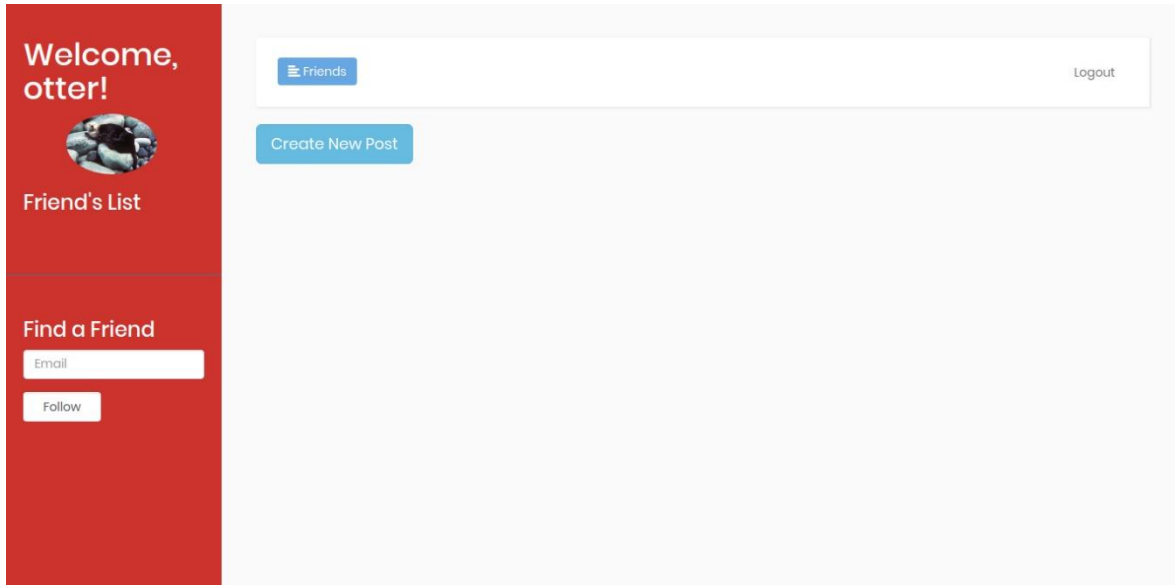

The home page may look empty right now, but you will soon be adding your own food items, and friends to populate your home page. The first thing we will do is add a friend by email.

Adding Friend Step 1
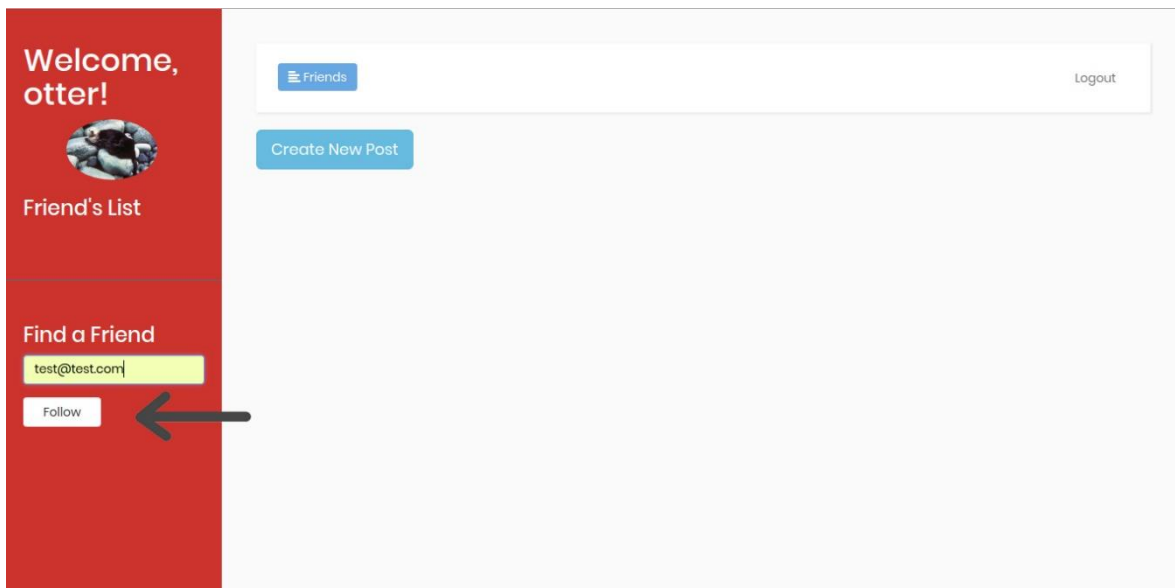

You can add a friend by entering their email address associated with their account to become friends and see images of food they posted.
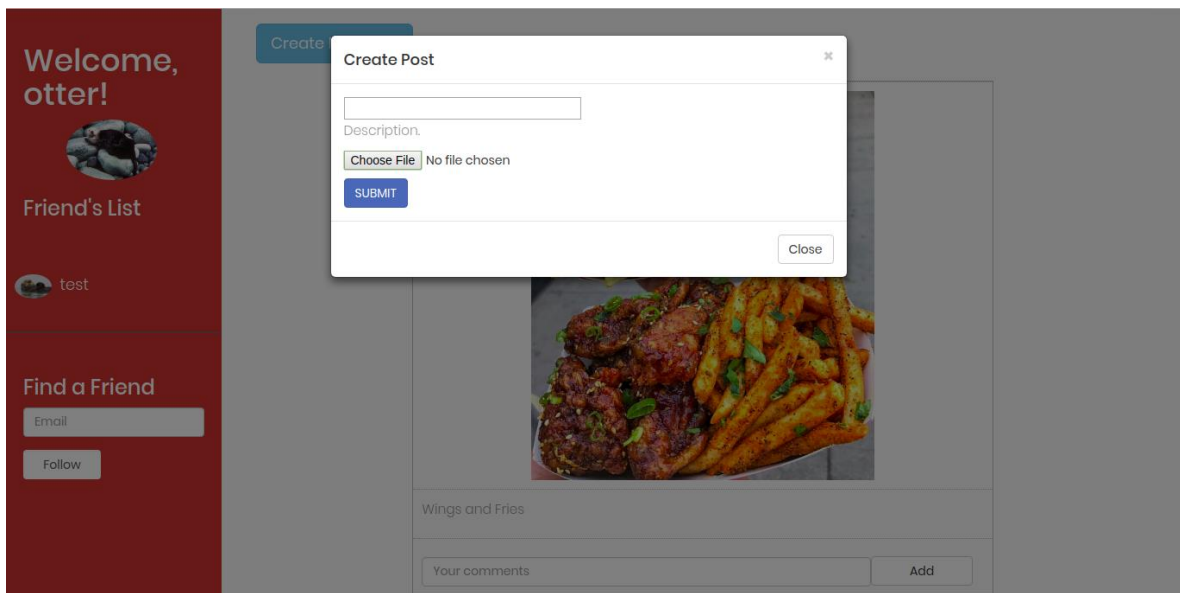

Adding Friend Step 2

Your friend list is now updated and displays the name of the friend and their profile image. Your home page is also updated with images that your friend had previously posted. You can also now comment on their images.
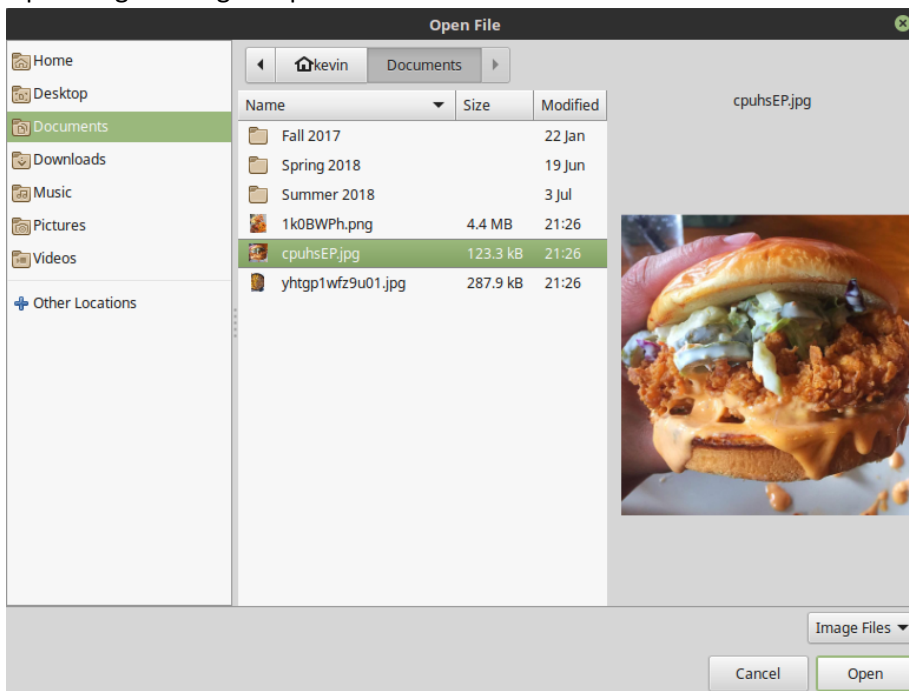

Uploading an Image Step 1
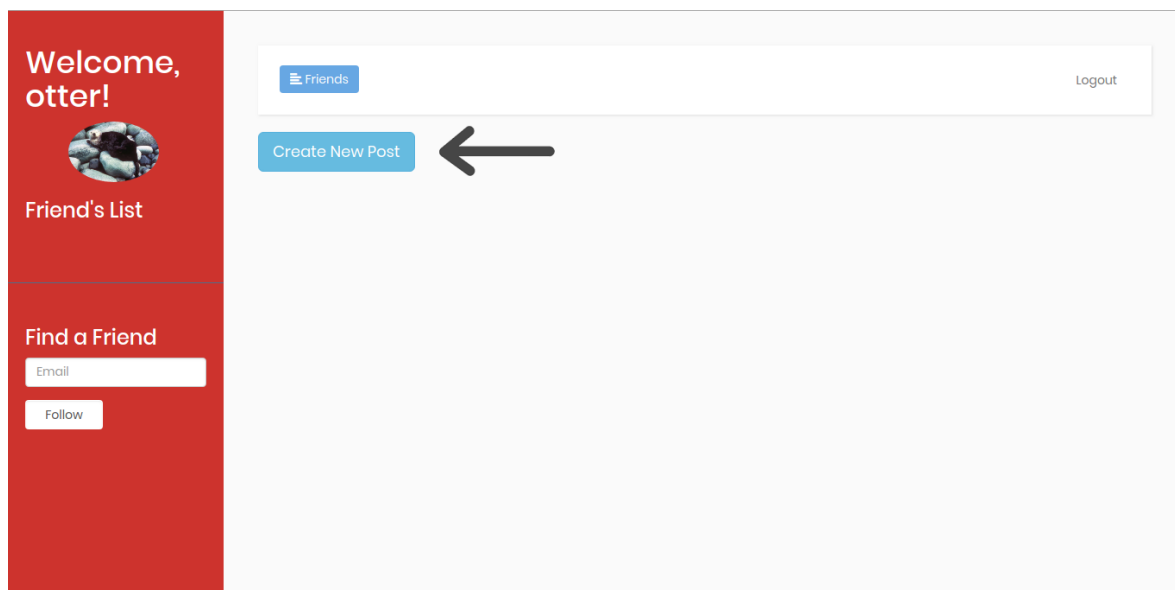

You can upload your own food images by clicking the "Create New Post button".
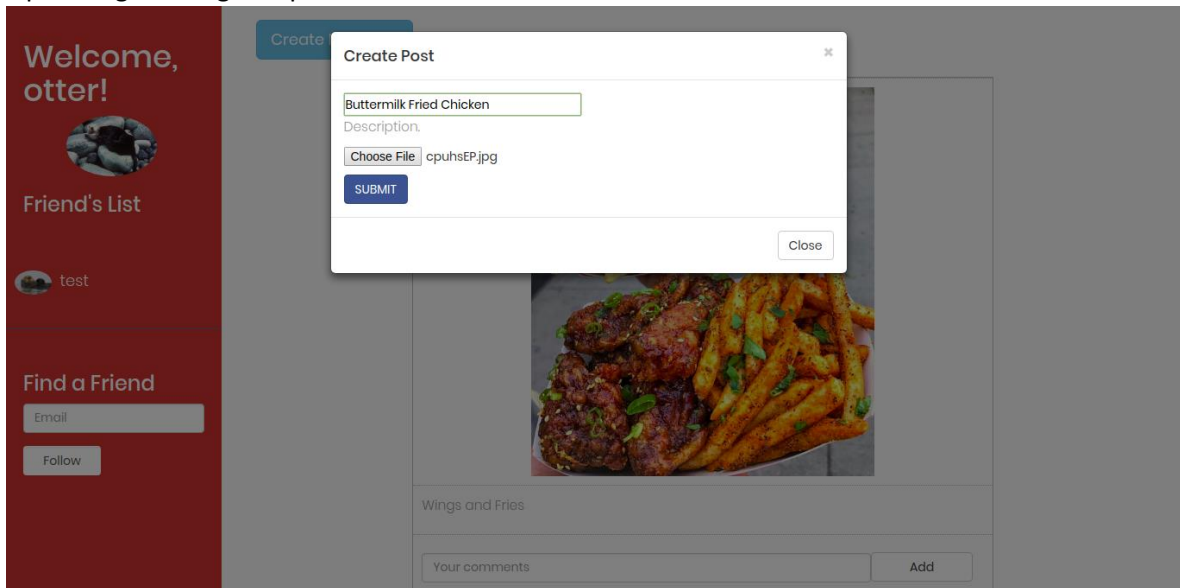

Uploading an Image Step 2

Clicking the Create new Post button will prompt you to add a description to the image and select and image to upload from your computer.
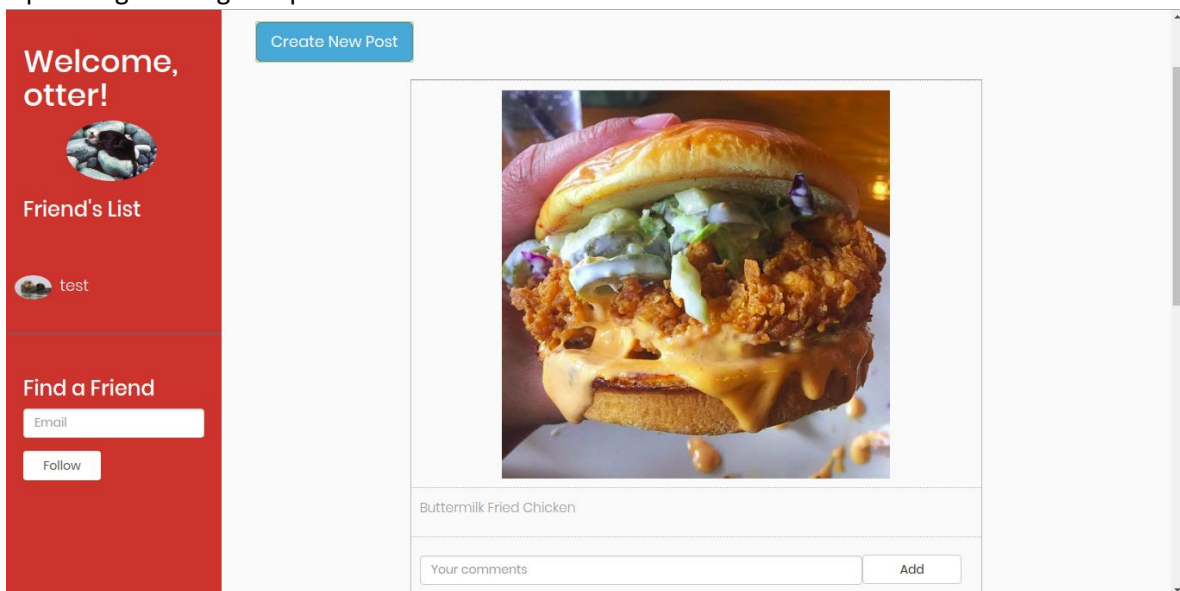

Uploading an Image Step 3

I will be uploading this image of a Buttermilk Fried Chicken Burger I had for lunch.
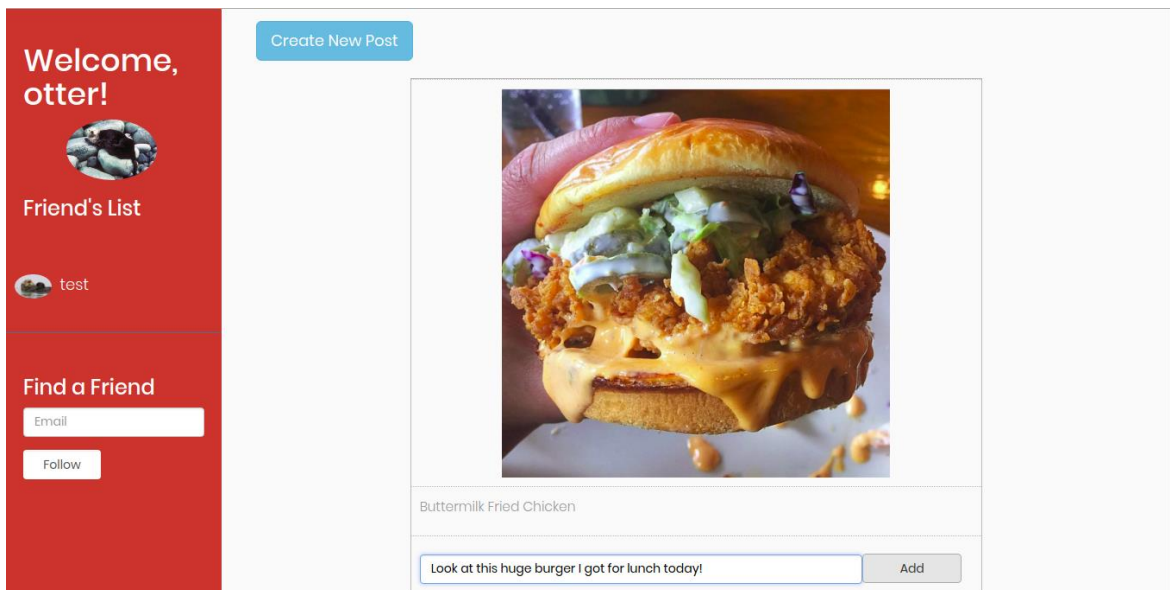

Uploading an Image Step 4

Click the Submit button after you included a description of the image and selected the correct image you wanted to upload.
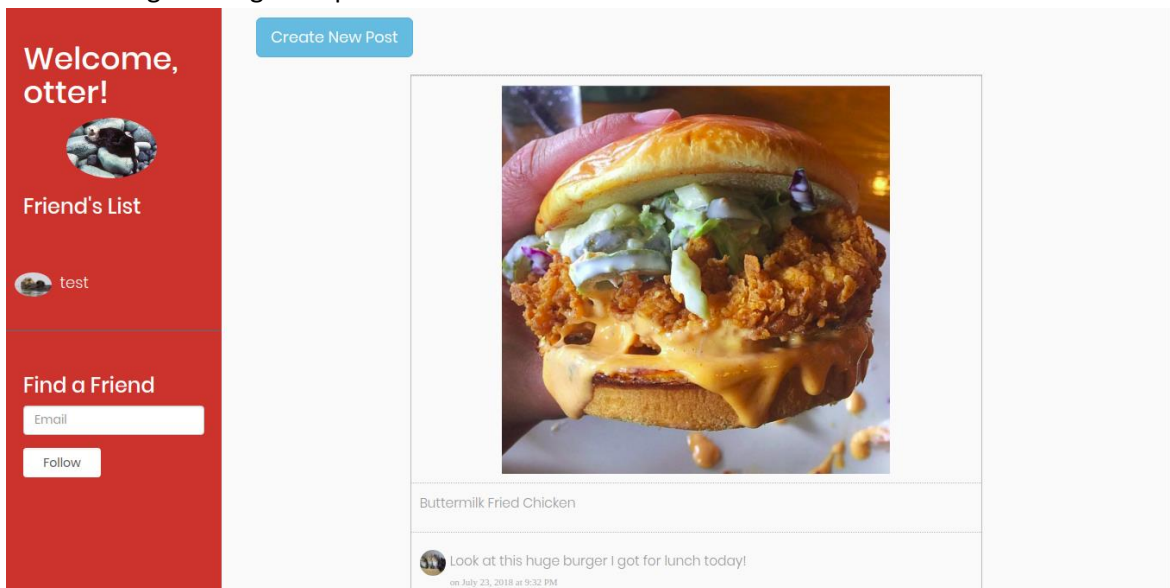

Uploading an Image Step 5

Your feed should now be updated with the latest photo you uploaded and contains your brief description of the image.
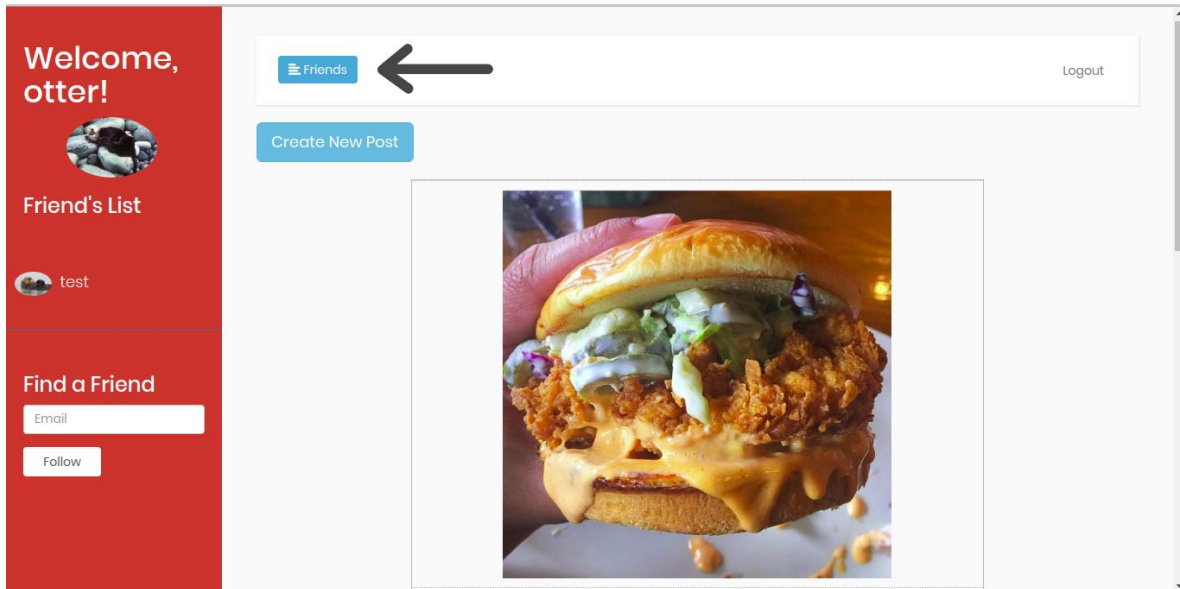

Commenting on Images Step 1:

You can also comment on images by typing into the text box below each image and clicking the add button to publish your comment on the image.
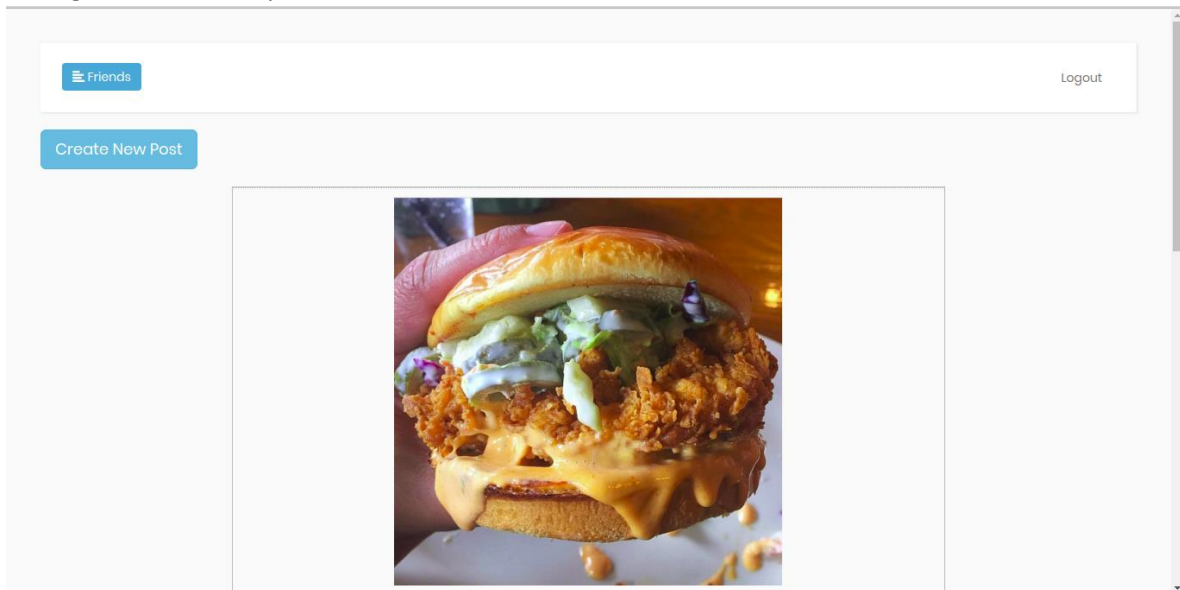

Commenting on Images Step 2:

The comment will now display under the image you commented on.
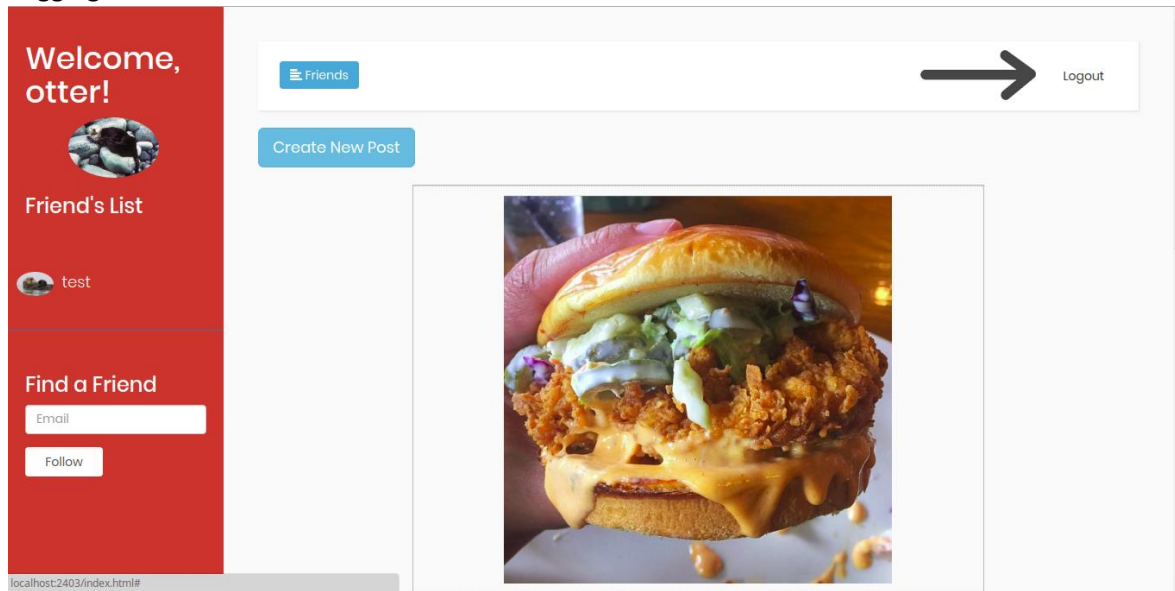

Hiding the friends list part 1:

Users can hide the friend's list side bar by clicking on the Friends button.

Hiding the friends list part 2:

This view allows the user to only see post they made or their friends made.

Logging out

Users can simply logout of their accounts by clicking on the Logout button.